

Dalcour Maclaren Modern Slavery Statement 2021-2022

Dalcour Maclaren takes its social responsibilities seriously and is committed to ensuring that we comply with the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

We seek to prevent slavery and human trafficking in compliance with the Modern Slavery Act 2015 by ensuring that all employees are paid in excess of the minimum wage and that we have undertaken robust immigration checks prior to confirming an individual's employment with the Company.

We request that our sub-contractor / supply chain follow similar requirements and we identify any risk areas, if any and seek assurances from our suppliers that they comply with the Act.

We are a private limited company of chartered surveyors which provides specialist advice and services to the Utilities and Infrastructure sectors. We operate from ten regional offices across the UK. We do not operate outside of the UK.

We procure goods and services from a variety of suppliers. These include:

- Retail supplies for items such as stationery and PPE
- Printing and Publishing
- IT support services
- Operations and Infrastructure support
- Property related contractors and Tradesmen
- Accountancy services

We recognise the risk of modern slavery in any supply chain and have policies and procedures in place to check our service providers. We operate an ISO 9001 Approved Contractor scheme which requires all new contractors and suppliers to fill in a questionnaire and provide key documents before they can be approved for use. Those on the approved list are routinely checked to ensure they have the relevant policies and procedures in place. We also use recruitment and employment policies and procedures which comply with UK law and have a published Corporate Social Responsibility Policy.

Given the nature of the work that we do, the type of the goods and services that we procure and the UK base of our operation, we judge our risk to be low, but will continue to focus on improving our policies and procedures so that any potential risk can be quickly identified.

This statement is made on behalf of Dalcour Maclaren and constitutes our slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year 2021 - 2022.
